It is a very common mistake to think that the only way to get a good result is to work hard. In fact, the most important thing is to know what you are doing. If you are not sure, it is better to ask for help than to try to do it yourself. This is especially true when it comes to writing. Writing is a skill that can be learned, and it is not something that only a few people are born with. If you want to become a good writer, you need to practice and learn from others. This means reading a lot, writing often, and getting feedback from people who are good at writing. It also means being patient and not giving up when you feel like you are not making progress. Writing is a journey, and it takes time to get to where you want to go. So, if you are just starting out, don't worry. You will get there in time.
